The Subtenant confirms that it has reviewed the Head Lease and covenants and agrees that to the extent amended herein, all of the terms and conditions contained in the Head Lease (save for the length of the term set forth therein, the amount of rent, any right of first refusal or first offer, any improvement allowance, any option to renew and any other rights which are personal in nature and have not been specifically granted to the Subtenant by the provisions hereof), shall apply to the use and occupation of the Subleased Premises by the Subtenant, mutatis mutandis with reference therein to:

The Sublandlord will require the consent of the Landlord to each New Sublease which consent may require further or additional amendments to the Head Lease. The Subtenant acknowledges and agrees that the Sublandlord may from time to time be required, in respect of New Subleases and the consent of the Landlord thereto, to enter into further amending agreements with the Landlord. Provided such further amending agreements do not in any way affect the obligations of the Subtenant under this Sublease or the Head Lease or the Landlord's Consent to Sublease with respect hereto, the Sublandlord may enter into such amending agreements without obtaining the consent of the Subtenant. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any termination of or amendments of the Head Lease which in any way affect the obligations of the Subtenant will require the consent of the Subtenant, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed.

18. SUBTENANT'S COVENANTS

The Subtenant covenants and agrees with the Sublandlord as follows:

In case the Sublandlord, without fault on its part, is made a party to litigation begun by or against the Subtenant, excepting a bona fide action by the Subtenant against the Sublandlord, the Subtenant will protect and hold harmless the Sublandlord and will pay all costs, expenses and reasonable legal fees incurred or paid by the Sublandlord in connection with any such litigation. The Subtenant will also pay all costs, expenses and reasonable legal fees incurred by the Sublandlord in enforcing the covenants, obligations and agreements of the Subtenant under this Sublease. To be clear, the Sublandlord is not entitled to charge service and administration fees, as outlined in the Head Lease, as if they were Landlord, as defined in the Head Lease unless the Sublandlord provides the service for which the fee is charged and the Landlord does not charge a fee for such service.

20. SUBTENANT'S INSURANCE

All insurance required to be obtained by the Sublandlord pursuant to the Head Lease in respect of the Subleased Premises shall be obtained by the Subtenant at its sole cost and shall name both the Landlord and the Sublandlord as additional insureds in each instance the Landlord is required to be so named pursuant to the Head Lease and shall waive any rights of subrogation which the insurer may have against both the Landlord and the Sublandlord and those for whom the Landlord and Sublandlord are at law responsible in each instance such waiver is required in favour of the Landlord pursuant to the Head Lease. Where any insurer is required by the provisions of the Head Lease to provide the Landlord with any notice regarding such insurance, including any notice of cancellation, lapse, non-renewal or material change adverse to the interests of the Landlord, such insurance shall require the insurer to provide similar notice to the Sublandlord. The Subtenant shall provide the Sublandlord and the Landlord with certificates setting out the particulars of such policy, prior to taking possession of the Subleased Premises and from time to time thereafter upon request by either the Landlord or the Sublandlord.

21. NET SUBLEASE

The Subtenant hereby acknowledges, confirms and agrees that it is the intention of the Sublandlord and the Subtenant that, except as expressly set out herein, this Sublease shall be a completely net Sublease for the Sublandlord and that, subject to the provisions contained in the Sublease, the Sublandlord shall not be responsible during the Sublease Term for any obligations, losses, charges, expenses, or outlays of any nature and kind whatsoever arising from or relating to the Subtenant's use and occupation of the Subleased Premises or the contents thereof and that the Subtenant shall pay all charges, impositions and expenses of every kind and nature relating to its use and occupation of the Subleased Premises and covenants with the Sublandlord accordingly, except in the case of gross negligence on behalf of the Sublandlord. The Subtenant further acknowledges and agrees that the Sublandlord shall have all rights and remedies against the Subtenant in respect of this Sublease as though the Sublandlord was the Landlord named in the Head Lease and the Subtenant was the Tenant named in the Head Lease, mutatis mutandis, subject to the matters which are expressly dealt with in this Sublease.

22. ASSIGNMENT AND SUBLETTING

The Subtenant shall not be permitted to assign this Sublease or to sub-sublease the Subleased Premises or any portion thereof without the Sublandlord's prior written approval, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, and the approval of the Landlord under the Head Lease.

23. ALTERATION OF AND RESTORATION OF SUBLEASED PREMISES

At any time after occupancy of the Subleased Premises by the Subtenant, the Subtenant, at its sole risk and expense, shall be responsible for any alterations to the Subleased Premises provided that no alteration shall be made and no work done within or to the Subleased Premises without the Subtenant first having submitted the plans, working drawings (if required) and specifications therefore to the Sublandlord and the Landlord and having obtained the prior written approval from the Sublandlord and Landlord in accordance with and in the manner provided in the Head Lease. The Subtenant shall comply with all the terms and conditions of such approval. On expiry or earlier termination of the Sublease Term, the Subtenant shall comply with all provisions of the Head Lease pertaining to the removal of Leasehold Improvements and Wiring from the Subleased Premises and the restoration of any damage caused by such removal. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Head Lease and for certainty, the Subtenant will not be required to restore any portion of the Subleased Premises, at the expiry or earlier termination of the Sublease.

24. DEFAULT

In addition to the rights and remedies of the Sublandlord at law or as contained in the Head Lease, the parties agree that:

- (a) if the Subtenant does not pay to the Sublandlord or to the Landlord if so directed by the Sublandlord the amounts required to be paid pursuant to the provisions of this Sublease, then the Sublandlord may make all such payments on behalf of the Subtenant, who shall forthwith reimburse the Sublandlord for all such payments, together with any costs and expenses incurred in connection therewith including interest as set forth in the Head Lease. In the event of any such non-payment by the Subtenant, the Sublandlord may take the same steps for the recovery of all such amounts as the Landlord may have for the recovery of Rent in arrears under the terms of the Head Lease, mutatis mutandis; and

- (b) if the Subtenant is in default of any of its covenants hereunder (other than its covenant to pay Rent), the Sublandlord may take such steps and do or cause to be done such things as may be necessary to remedy and correct the defaults and may thereupon charge its total reasonable costs and expenses incurred in respect thereof to the Subtenant who hereby covenants and agrees to pay the same forthwith and the Subtenant hereby covenants that any and all such reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Sublandlord and unpaid by the Subtenant shall be recoverable by the Sublandlord as if the same were, and in the same manner as, Rent reserved and in arrears under the terms of this Sublease; if the Sublandlord shall be entitled to, and shall elect to make a re-entry as provided for in the Head Lease, the re-entry or other action so taken shall not be deemed to relieve the Subtenant of its obligation to pay Rent and other monies payable as Rent or otherwise in accordance with the provisions hereof, all of which shall continue to accrue and be payable until such time as the Sublandlord is able to re-let the Subleased Premises or otherwise deal with the same in such manner that it would not sustain any loss should the Subtenant thereafter fail to pay the Rent and other monies payable as Rent or otherwise under this Sublease.
